Gold Coast. $2.50

GOLD COAST (left). One of the newer Grandifloras, taller than most Floribundas. Masses of clear yellow flowers that open to show deeper golden yellow stamens. The color lasts well until the petals fall. A steady producer all season long. Pl. Pat. 1790. $2.50 ea.; 3 or more, $2.20 ea.

SIMONE (above). These new orchid varieties are inexorably breaking the color bar, and every season finds a few more of them spread out for our admiring gaze. Here's one we could not resist, full of poise and charm. The cool lavender blooms are as much as 6 in. in diameter, with about 50 large, outward-curved petals. Bushy in growth, with glossy foliage. Plant it with a yellow variety (Gold Coast, for example) and see how lovely it is. Pl. Pat. 1847. $3.00 ea.; 3 or more, $2.65 ea.

OUR "NORTHLAND ROSES" COME TO YOU FIELD-FRESH

THE HARDIEST STOCK GROWN

EMILY (opposite right). The BIGGEST bloom of any Rose we grow. Fishermen who are accustomed to tell "whoppers" can boast about this Rose and prove it. You can keep telling these "whoppers" to new listeners and keep coming up with the proof, because Emily blooms freely on a vigorous plant.

Perhaps you haven't read as much about this Rose as about some others. Frankly, we can't understand why it has been "underplayed." But don't let that stop you from investigating for yourself. We are sure you will join us in our enthusiasm for Emily. The wonderful soft rose-pink color, truly immense size and perfect form make it stand out in the large group of everblooms. . . Oh yes, it has a decided and pleasing perfume, too. $2.50 ea.; 3 or more, $2.20 ea.

SUSPENSE (below). Named, we presume, for the surprise experienced as you watch these huge yellow buds open out to show the velvety red surface of the interior. Half open, the flower is a yellow and red combination, but when fully expanded its 55 to 60 petals make a luminous, wide, turkey-red rosette. A brand-new Rose that will undoubtedly find admirers among those who like something novel and eye-catching. Blooms are of show quality, on strong stems that hold them erect. The plant grows tall and strong, with plenty of dark green, leathery foliage. Another Rose from the Meiland firm on the French Riviera, who will forever be known as the producers of Peace Rose. Why not try Suspense right now? Pl. Pat. 1944. $3.00 ea.; 3 or more, $2.65 ea.

Suspense. $3.00

June Bride. $2.50 ea.; 3 or more, $2.20 ea.

JUNE BRIDE (above). June Bride rates a repeat showing here because it is such a superb performer. If you ever had the feeling that white Roses were rather poor growers and in need of a little pampering, you should just see this one. All June Brides are beautiful, they say, and here's another—with a blush at the heart and as radiant a complexion as you could want. Pl. Pat. 1770. $2.50 ea.; 3 or more, $2.20 ea.

Emily, the BIGGEST Rose. $2.50 ea.; 3 rate, $2.20 ea.

GARDEN PARTY (front cover). With Peace and Charlotte Armstrong as parents, Garden Party should be good! And it is—good enough to capture several top awards in the world of Roses. The blooms are double, very well formed and of about the same size as Peace. Soft creamy ivory in color, tinged peach, blending nicely with other varieties. Bushy and vigorous, the plant blooms freely and repeatedly. Pl. Pat. 1814. $3.00 ea.; 3 or more, $2.65 ea.

PINK PARFAIT (front cover). A luscious blend of pink tints, from light to rich rose-pink, darkening rather than fading with age. This new Grandiflora has perfectly formed buds and flowers of medium size, carried in profusion on an extra-strong plant. Its habit of growth will be found especially satisfactory, for it is compact and never unsymmetrical. Very desirable as a garden plant, Pnk Parfait will also provide plenty of lovely flowers for cutting. Pl. Pat. 1904. $3.50 ea.; 3 or more, $3.10 ea.

DUET (front cover). Another fine new everblooming Rose that is not overly large but has very good lasting qualities because the petals are so firm. The inside of the petal is soft salmon-pink and the reverse light red, giving a pleasing two-tone appearance. Weather seems to have little effect on the color. The bush is very vigorous and tall, with a thick cover of dark, healthy foliage. It produces blooms very freely all through the season. Pl. Pat. 1903. $3.50 ea.; 3 or more, $3.10 ea.

JOSEPHINE BRUCE (Below). This is another excellent Rose that for some reason has not been widely publicized. It comes from England, where it was awarded the gold medal of the Royal Horticultural Society. One of its parents was Crimson Glory, and that in itself is recommendation for Josephine Bruce. These flowers are deep, rich velvety crimson with highlights of warm scarlet. The long-pointed buds have beautifully furled petals that open to large flowers with distinctive fragrance. A sturdy, free-branching plant well covered with dark green, tough foliage that sets off the flower to perfection. Pl. Pat. 1294. $3.00 ea.; 3 or more, $2.65 ea.

ANGEL WINGS (bottom of page). The delicate creamy white center surrounded by petals of cerise-rose make it difficult to describe. It has long tapering buds and good-sized blooms with about 25 petals that curl outward. Fragrant and free flowering, this is a real beauty with an almost ethereal quality. Pl. Pat. 1865. $3.00 ea.; 3 or more, $2.65 ea.

Dear Friends and Customers;

Those of you who call at the nursery often find little folks running errands and doing chores; perhaps your catalog was inserted and mailed by my grandchildren. They are learning the lessons of business—that customers are important and that money is something to be earned and spent wisely.

The little grandson who was born prematurely in France about a year and a half ago is now a bouncing boy. And tonight as I write this, grandmother (Mrs Paul P. Bosley for whom the rose was named) is winging her way to that same little family now in southern Ohio because another baby boy has been born. The count on grandchildren stands at six.

Many of you have asked about the new French roses we spoke of in our last message. Please be patient because a wealth of new material is coming but for a start try the new exotic rose Miss France. The next rose we will introduce is a yellow floribunda which we have never seen with "black spot"—what a milestone in rose growing!

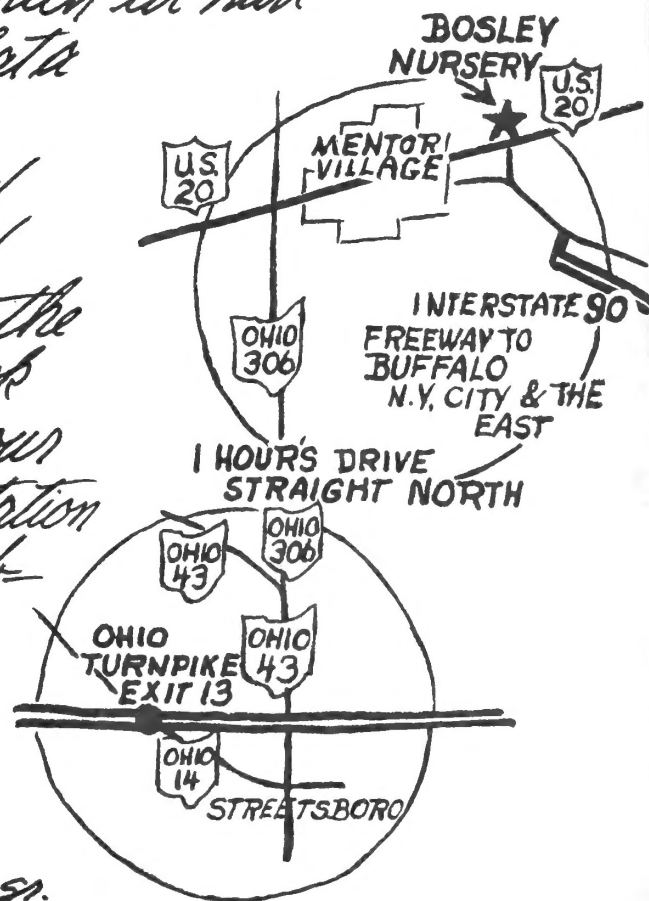

The last time I wrote, we extended you an invitation to visit us and gave directions for reaching us from the Ohio turnpike. Now the New York Thruway brings travelers right to our door for at least 2 years. The invitation goes double now and here is a thumb-nail sketch of how to reach us.

You might be amazed how roses are grown, harvested and/or packed.

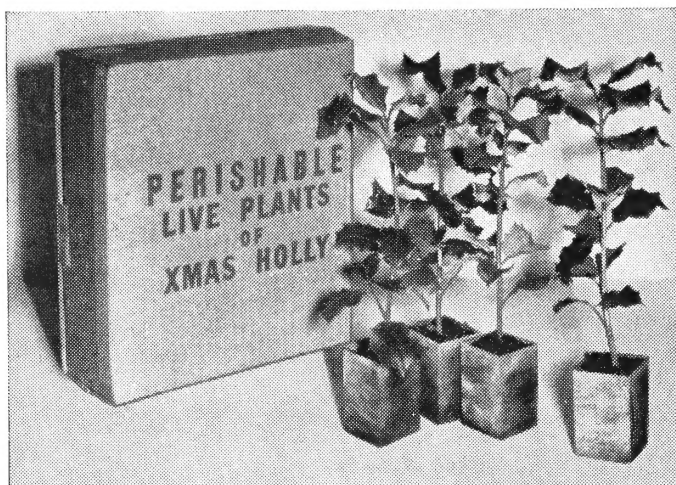

Sincerely

Paul P. Bosley sr.

JAPANESE (EVERGREEN) HOLLIES

ILEX CRENATA CONVEXA. A low, compact-growing type with round leaves that curve backward. It is especially pretty and glistens like beads when wet with dew or rain. Use as a specimen, edge or hedge. Priced below.

ILEX C. HETZI. The new type with larger convex evergreen leaves. Here is a variety that grows more quickly into a hedge. See illustration opposite. Priced below.

ILEX C. ROTUNDIFOLIA. This is the round-foliage, flat-leaf type which can be easily clipped into perfect cones. Priced below.

PIERIS JAPONICA (Japanese Andromeda). An acid-loving flowering broad-leaf evergreen with four definite seasons of charm: Spring with its bloom; Summer with its colorful new growth; Fall with its buds and different coloring and Winter with evergreen foliage. Priced below.

REDI-GROWN PLANTS

REDI-GROWN PLANTS transplant perfectly—are small landscaping sizes.

REDI-GROWN PLANTS are ready to "zoom" in the freedom of open ground.

REDI-GROWN PLANTS never stop growing while coming to you.

ACER PALMATUM ATROPURPUREUM

(Grafted Japanese Red-leaf Maple). This is the true shrubby-growing ornamental tree with blood-red leaves through most of the summer. Ours is the finest strain, but it must be planted in full sun to develop maximum color. A choice plant that is rather hard to find in today's nurseries. Bushy 8 to 12-in. plants, $3.75 ea.

AZALEA KAEMPFERI HYBRIDS.

Described and illustrated page 14. These plants are the bushy 10 to 12-in. blooming size. For a big display of color, use Azaleas in great masses. They generally bloom best in full sun, but the Kaempferi Hybrids do very well in light shade. $3.50 ea.; 3 or more, $3.25 ea.

ILEX OPACA (Christmas Holly illustrated on page 14 and on the left). These are stocky little plants which are growing in gallon-size containers and are now ready for planting in a permanent spot. These will soon begin to bear red fruit. Only the female plants bear the red berries at Christmas, but at least 1 male is necessary for pollination. We suggest planting 2 females and 1 male. They should be in the same general area but need not be planted close together. $3.95 ea.; 3 or more, $3.50 ea.

MAGNOLIA SOULANGEANA (Japanese

Magnolia or Tulip-tree). These hardy Magnolias are not to be confused with the Magnolia of our South. This is a very hardy deciduous and shrubby small tree that covers itself in the very early spring with enormous pink, tulip-like flowers. This has always been considered a difficult tree to get established, but with these container-grown plants results are always assured. Plants range from 15 to 24 in. high. $3.75 ea.

PICEA PUNGENS ROYALI (Royal Blue

Spruce). This is the bluest blue Spruce that we know of today; many unmistakable degrees bluer than Koster or Moerheimi. This blueness of color can only be maintained by grafting from true stock trees. This shippable size will be an ungainly-looking plant, but these beautiful plants start life that way. Five years' work has gone into these already. 10 to 12 in., somewhat branched, $5.75 ea.

PIERIS JAPONICA (Japanese Andromeda).

Described above. This choice ericaceous evergreen is also available in this larger 10 to 12-in. size. It is an ideal evergreen for foreground or foundation planting. $3.50 ea.; 3 or more, $3.25 ea.

NOTE: Because of weight and size the above items are shipped by express or motor freight with carrying charges collect.

New Glamorous everblooming Climbers

DON JUAN (see illustration of the flowering plant on page 11). Unquestionably the finest of red everblooming climbers. The individual blooms are as well formed and as rich in color as Josephine Bruce illustrated on page C. They are velvety textured and hold their glorious clean color until the very end. A full flower, 5 in. across when open, borne either one to a stem or several together. The pointed buds are even darker, and a deep satisfying fragrance adds enormously to the desirability of Don Juan. This climber grows 8 to 10 ft. tall and does well in any climate. Its shining, dark green foliage is resistant to mildew. Makes a display of color from spring to fall and will prove to be a great attraction in any garden. You won't go wrong in choosing Don Juan for any spot where you can use a climber. Pl. Pat. 1864. $3.00 ea.; 3 or more, $2.65 ea.

ROYAL GOLD (opposite right). Even after these petals have fallen to the ground, they are richly, royally gold. This is the best yellow climber that we know, easy to grow and with bloom you can depend on. The hardy plant grows to be 5 to 7 ft. tall and never gets out of bounds although it is a vigorous and sturdy grower. Buds are ovoid, sometimes in clusters of three to seven, opening to 4-in. flowers with fruity fragrance. If you want a golden yellow climber that you'll enjoy for years, plant Royal Gold. It's tops in this color. Pl. Pat. 1849. $3.00 ea.; 3 or more, $2.65 ea.

SPARKLING FLORIBUNDAS

SARABANDE (right). Medium grower. Even before it reached this country from Europe, this dashing new Floribunda was garnering prizes at all the big exhibitions. Here too it is a winner. But most important to home gardeners is the way it performs in the average yard. The plant is of moderate to low height and is aflame with these lively orange-red blooms, week after week. Their wide-eyed look is very appealing. Watch the color, though, and place it where it will not be against pinks or crimsons. If you can give it a darker background, it will stand out like a beacon. Pl. Pat. 1761. $2.50 ea.; 3 or more, $2.20 ea.; 25 or more, $2.00 ea.

FIRE KING (below left). Medium tall grower. Not only the smashing color but the cameo-perfect shape of these flowers is their distinguishing feature. Buds are blood-red. They open to double flowers of fiery vermillion, about 2½ to 3 in. in diameter and borne either in heavy clusters or only one or two on a stem. The bush is covered with blooms that last a long time. Naturally, they are prized for cutting, but they make very gay bouquets. A fine, upright grower with good dark foliage, reddish in its early stages. Excellent for a hedge. Pl. Pat. 1758. $2.50 ea.; 3 or more, $2.20 ea.

FASHIONETTE (below right). Medium grower. Probably you will call this a feminine color; at any rate, it's fresh and charming and we like it. Buds are darker coral than Fashion and are very freely produced. Old Rose perfume, rich and delightful—in fact, this is among the most fragrant of all Floribundas. Beautiful as a cut flower. *Pl.
